Preface

The Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies (NCDS), in its more than 31 years of existence, has been taking up socio-economic research and has served as a policy think-tank.

In recent times, NCDS has played a pivotal role in being part of a unique institutional architecture where Government, Civil Society and Academia have come together by complementing and supplementing each other to take forward the Odisha Millets Mission (OMM), which has won two SKOCH awards for transformational innovation in December 2017. It is not a mere coincidence that the efforts in Odisha and elsewhere have led to Government of India declaring 2018 as the year of millets.

NCDS also prepared a document on Zero Budget Natural Farming (ZBNF) for National Institution for Transforming India (NITI Aayog) through Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR). It is heartening to note that the Vice Chairman of NITI Aayog considers ZBNF and other similar agroecological approaches as important policy to address the larger crisis in Indian agriculture.

In line with its interdisciplinary research focus, the Utkal University has accorded NCDS to be a nodal centre for offering PhD in Development Studies. Some scholars have already registered for their PhD and some others are working on their proposal after completing their coursework.

Some of the conferences that NCDS organised in 2017-18 are as follows: the 22nd biennial conference of the Association of Indian Economic and Financial Studies (AIEFS, a constituent of the American Social Science Association with scholars based in North America and Europe working on India as its members) during 31 July-1 August 2017, the 5th annual conference of the Network of Rural and Agrarian Studies (NRAS, a multidisciplinary academic forum) during 27-30 October 2017, the 12th annual conference of the Forum of Global Knowledge Sharing (an interface between Economics, Science and Technology) during 10-12 November 2017, the 31st annual Conference of the Indian Society of Agricultural Marketing during 23-25 November 2017, the silver jubilee annual conference of Odisha Ganesana Chakra during 27-28 January 2018, and the golden jubilee annual conference of Odisha Economic Association during 10-11 February 2018.

NCDS has also been forging research collaboration with scholars abroad. Its scholars are part of a team being led by University of Cambridge that has been awarded a Research Council United Kingdom funding to study "Transforming India's Green Revolution by Research and Empowerment for Sustainable Food Policy" (TIGR2ESS), a three year project 2018-21.

NCDS has been contributing to academia and policy of which the details are in the report. It is at a critical stage that needs your help and support in her journey.

Overview

The Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies (NCDS), established in March 1987, is registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. Since its inception, it has been jointly funded by the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India and the Higher Education Department, Government of Odisha. Focusing on socio-economic research, this institute is the only one of its kind that serves as a policy think tank in the state of Odisha.

NCDS is managed by a Board of Governors (BOG) constituted by the Government of Odisha. The members of the BOG comprise of eminent academicians, Government administrators and nominees of the Government of Odisha and the ICSSR. The objectives, major activities and thrust areas of research are indicated below.

Objectives

- To undertake and promote research in social sciences and socio-economic problems of India in general and the state of Odisha in particular;
- To provide academic and professional assistance to the departments and agencies of the Government of India and Government of Odisha;
- To provide advisory and consultancy services to the International Bodies, Government of India, Government of Odisha, other educational institutions and organisations, business, trade and industry;
- To collaborate with Universities, particularly those established in Odisha as also with other academic institutions and organisations in India or abroad for promotion of research and higher learning.

Major Activities

- Conducting research studies in the field of social science on various aspects of development;
- Providing consultation and professional assistance to the government and other public institutions in formulation of plans and programmes of socio-economic development;
- Conducting seminars, workshops, conferences, training, evaluation and monitoring programmes;
- Conducting Ph.D. programmes and supervising scholars for their doctoral degree in social sciences, particularly in Development Studies.

Some Research Initiatives

The research studies of NCDS are based on various themes of national and regional importance in the area of socio-economic development. Some recent initiatives are the action research based ‘Special Programme on Promotion of Millets for Tribal Areas in Odisha’ (or, Odisha Millets Mission). NCDS has also been a part of a team being led by University of Cambridge that has been granted the Research Council UK’s fund for a project on “Transforming India’s Green Revolution by Research and Empowerment for Sustainable Food Supply” (TIGR2ESS).

Some of the studies have been sponsored by various state and national bodies or international agencies like Department for International Development (DfID), Finance Commission, Ford Foundation, Indo-Dutch Programme for Alternatives in Development (IDPAD), International Labour Organisation (ILO), National Institute of Rural Development (NIRD), Overseas Development Institute (ODI), Panchayatiraj Department, Planning Commission (Government of India), Planning and Convergence Department (Government of Odisha), Water Resources Department (Government of Odisha), World Bank, United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), and Shastri Indo Canadian Institute (SHARP).

Besides, NCDS organises lectures, training programmes, workshops, seminars and conferences for discussion of research findings and exchange of ideas and information among academia, policy makers and others. NCDS has also provided consultancy and assistance to public institutions, particularly State and Central Governments. It has also undertaken monitoring and evaluation studies of various government programmes which helps the concerned bodies in the formulation and implementation of their programmes.

The thrust areas of research studies conducted by NCDS are as follows:

- Development, Displacement and Rehabilitation
- Labour Studies including Child Labour
- Macroeconomic Reforms and the Local Economy
- Natural Resource Management and Analysis
- Poverty studies and analysis
- Sectoral Development Analysis (Agriculture, Industry, Traditional crafts, Informal, and Social Sector among others)
- Social Exclusion and Gender Studies
- State Finances, and Centre-State Financial Relation
- Studies on Disaster Management
- Tribal Development Studies

Infrastructural Facilities

Odisha Millets Mission

Special programme for promotion of millets in tribal areas of Odisha (or Odisha Millets Mission), with NCDS as the State Secretariat, is being implemented in 30 blocks spread across seven districts of Odisha. This is being extended to another 25 blocks. A unique aspect of the programme is the institutional architecture with Academia, Civil Society and Government as important stakeholders that complement and supplement each other to address nutrition security and climate resilience. The programme has also won two SKOCH Awards at 50th SKOCH SUMMIT 2017.

Centre for Census Studies and Application

Eastern India's first and only census data workstation (named as, Centre for Census Studies and Application) was opened at the Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies (NCDS), Bhubaneswar on 31st May 2014, which will now enable students and researchers from Odisha and its neighboring regions to analyze the extensive census data and derive their own conclusions.

The Centre for Census Studies and Application at the Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies is a collaborative effort by the Office of the Registrar General and Census Commissioner of India and the Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies. While the census organization does publish important summary indicators and tables from the data collected, the massive data at the unit level have huge potential for in-depth analysis of social-economic-demographic conditions of India's population. In order to allow the use of this valuable data, it was proposed by the Office of the Registrar General and Census Commissioner to permit access to researchers to the micro-data at designated centres in a manner that would not reveal the identities of individuals on whom the information is collected. The fifth such centre has been established at the NCDS with a grant from the Office of the Registrar General and Census Commissioner.

The centre is located on the first floor of the NCDS administrative building. This has one server and four terminals for use of researchers. Appropriate software for analysis has also been provided. The 1991, 2001 and 2011 census data have been loaded on the computers. A Steering Committee consisting of members of the NCDS faculty and officers from the Office of the Director, Census Operations, Odisha oversees the functioning of the centre. Dr. Shibalal Meher is now acting as its Coordinator.

AISHE State Unit

Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Govt. of India initiated an All India Survey on Higher Education (AISHE) in the year 2011 under a new plan Scheme Higher Education Statistics and Public Information System (HESPIS) across the States to build a robust database and to assess the correct picture of Higher Education in the country.

The main objectives of the survey are to (i) identify and capture all the institutions of higher learning in the country (ii) collect the data from all the higher education institutions on various aspects of higher education. The survey is an ambitious step towards gathering relevant statistics that could guide governments in States and Centres in devising future policies.

The AISHE 2017-18 was launched by Hon'ble Minister HRD at New Delhi on 05.01.2018. The Survey highlighted the overall enrolment in higher education has increased from 27.5 million in 2010-2011 to 35.7 million in 2016-17. During the period of 2016-17 the Gross Enrolment Ratio which is the ratio of enrolment of higher education to population in the eligible age group (18-23) years increased from 25.2 % to 25.8%. In the State of Odisha the GER increased from 21.0% to 22.0%.

There are 25 Universities/Institution of National Importance, 1042 Colleges and 366 Stand Alone Institutions (DTET, SCERT, Nursing, Institutes under Ministries and PGDM Institutes) imparting knowledge in the State covered in the survey. Data are being collected on several parameters such as teachers, student enrolment, programmes, examination results, education finance, infrastructure etc. Indicators of educational development such as Institution Density, Gross Enrolment Ratio, Pupil Teacher Ratio, Gender Parity Index etc. are calculated from the data collected through AISHE. Dr. Rashmi Mishra is acting as the State Nodal officer. She has been awarded as Best State Nodal Officer for outstanding performance and 100% data uploading for AISHE 2017-18.

Summer Internship Programme-2018

The Government of Odisha is rolling out a programme on revival of millets in seven districts of southern Odisha. The culmination of this has been a collaborative endeavour by the government, civil society and academia. One of the major objectives of the programme is to increase household consumption, including development of strategies to improve consumption of millets in both urban and rural areas. In this context, the state secretariat (NCDS & WASSAN) launched a millet internship programme in urban areas as well as in rural areas. The primary objective of this is an outreach activity that will initiate students to get a first-hand experience of working with the civil society and academia. This could be the relevance to public policy.

This internship programme was carried out jointly by NCDS and Watershed Support Services and Activities Network (WASSAN), Hyderabad in two groups namely Urban-Intens group and Rural-Interns group. A total number of 29 interns from different institutions and universities from both inside and outside of the state have successfully participated in this programme and prepared both individual and group report and presented it. The notable institutions/universities from where scholars have come are TISS Hyderabad; Khalikote Cluster University; Utkal University and Fakir Mohan University. Dr. Biswabas Patra coordinated this programme. Dr. C.R. Das of NCDS and Mr. Dinesh Balam, of WASSAN also helped in this endeavour.

Urban-Interns group covered the smart city Bhubaneswar with a special event named “Smart Food in Smart City” in different places of Bhubaneswar where the student voluntaries promote millet recipes namely foxtail millet & little millet vada, ragi pakoda, little millet & foxtail millet kheer, ragi laddoo, sorghum laddoo, foxtail millet biscuit & ragi biscuit, pudina chutney & mango chutney among the urban people.

Rural-Intens group covered seven rural blocks from five districts i.e. Soroda block of Ganjam district, Kalyansingpur and Kashipur blocks of Rayagada district, Koraput and Laxmipur blocks of Koraput district, Rajgangpur block of Sundergarh district, Tumudibandh block of Kandhamal district. These interns collected information on different aspects of millet production, consumption, processing and marketing. Interested NGOs working in these blocks provided necessary help to the interns.
